Kill Docs

Kill Docs Free Download is an automatic daily cleaner for the Documents/Recent menu, which helps keep it clean and prevents duplication of documents. It is especially useful when you work with a PC that is used by several users, such as yourself, your colleagues and your children. After a few days of use, the Recent menu becomes cluttered with duplicates of documents that you use frequently. Unfortunately, the Recycle Bin can only store documents up to a certain size (depending on the Windows version), so most duplicates are deleted and you find yourself left with only the very oldest and most rarely-accessed documents. Kill Docs Crack allows you to clean the Documents menu at a user-defined time interval and avoid that unneeded documents take up valuable space on your disk. It is especially useful when you use your PC at home, at the office and at school, but you only have a single PC for all occasions. If you have more than one PC, you can define a different cleaning interval for each one (this is not supported for the Recycle Bin). When you open the application window, you can activate/deactivate the daily cleaning at the defined interval you choose. After that the application will automatically clean the Documents/Recent menu, and empty the Recycling Bin for you. The program will display the percentage of documents that have been cleaned at the interval you selected. If you want to clean the Documents/Recent menu at a regular interval and have a dual screen PC or if you use a Tablet PC, Kill Docs can be also be tailored to work with that OS. An added option has been added for that: Kill Docs also allows to clean the Recycling Bin and the Documents/Recent menu only when you are on the Desktop (instead of only when you move to another screen). See "Screenshots" for details. Kill Docs is scheduled to start cleaning the Documents menu and/or the Recycle Bin at the interval you chose (see "About" for details). It will clean only the files that are open at the defined interval and only for those windows. If you can't remember what document you opened at the last interval (maybe you closed it), you can use the application to lock the Documents/Recent menu to see which documents are open at the current interval. This can be useful if you need to track which documents you use more frequently than others. Kill Docs features: *Clean only the documents that are open at the defined interval and only for those windows. * 6a5afdab4c

I am very interested in this subject. In my opinion, if we open a window in cmd with a variable added, we can modify the variable and the window seems to be closed. But if we make the same setting in window.bat, it seems to be opened. In addition, when I write a batch file and use the PING command, it works well, but the batch file does not work. I think it needs the command PING to be in the main window, and not in a batch file.
